VIPERADE

Since 2006, VIPERADE has been dedicated to providing the highest quality and most professional equipment for outdoor enthusiasts worldwide. This all began with a simple belief - to let every tactical outdoor enthusiast experience the ultimate outdoor life.

Our journey began in 2006 when we, as tactical outdoor enthusiasts ourselves, started developing and producing tactical clothing, tactical vests, and tactical trousers. Every product we designed and made was infused with our love for the tactical outdoor life and our pursuit of quality. We believe that only those who truly understand outdoor life can create truly high-quality gear for tactical outdoor enthusiasts.

In 2018, based on our understanding of the EDC (Every Day Carry) philosophy, we began developing the VE series of products. This was a completely new series of products designed specifically for modern city dwellers, combining both outdoor and daily life needs, and perfectly integrating functionality with fashion. During this stage of product development, we painstakingly polished and adjusted every detail to create truly comfortable and convenient products for daily life.

In 2022, we started developing the Urban Hunter and Urban Gray Man series of products, inspired by the diversity and complexity of modern urban life. By 2023, we officially launched these two series of products. We believe that whether you are adventuring in the jungle or living in the city, VIPERADE can provide you with the most professional equipment and services.

REDEFINING STORAGE

2017 was a significant turning point in VIPERADE's history. We began to expand our horizons to the international market and started developing the PJ series of leather products. During this stage, we invested a lot of time and effort in researching various types of leather, striving to apply the characteristics of each type of leather to our product design to the greatest extent possible. Our goal was to ensure that VIPERADE's leather products were not only world-class in quality but also full of our understanding and passion for life.

QUALITY & INNOVATIVE

Looking to the future, VIPERADE will always adhere to our original aspiration - to use the highest quality products to provide the ultimate outdoor life experience for outdoor enthusiasts worldwide. We look forward to exploring the unknown and enjoying outdoor life with you.
